

Bryce travels around the country running camps and clinics for players of all ages and skill levels. He has worked with ESPN top 100 players, College All-Americans, and NBA players such as Mario Chalmers, Evan Turner, Nolan Smith, Ben McLemore, and others. I'm Possible works with players such as Dwayne Wade, Kyrie Irving and have run clinics with Kobe Bryant and one thing stays true with all of our players, it does not matter your age, your skill level, or your position, all players can train like our pros do. All of our training methods we use with our NBA players will be shared with you throughout this clinic. From IQ to skills we will cover it all, because if you want to be a pro, then you must train like one.

All we ask you to bring is a ball and your water and Bryce will handle the rest. This is a great opportunity to sharpen your skills as we head into basketball season.
