2012 OMAHA BEEF SCHEDULE RELEASED

Beef ready to take on new & old rivals

OMAHA, NE: The Indoor Football League has released the 2012 schedule, highlighting both new and old rivals. New Head Coach, Bruce Cowdrey said, "I'm excited to begin the 2012 season, especially with such a competitive schedule. The level of talent that the IFL has will be a weekly struggle for each team to overcome. The Beef will work hard to meet all levels of competitiveness."

Omaha is going into their 13th season, and is looking at this year as a "Farewell to the Slaughterhouse" tribute. The Beef will have played in the Omaha Civic Auditorium, deemed the Slaughterhouse, for 13 seasons. They are currently working on an agreement with the new Ralston arena for the 2013 season. The Beef have a bye in week one, but open up at home against Wichita on March 2nd. The first road game Omaha has is against in-state rival, the Nebraska Danger. General Manager Josh Roehr states, "The scheduling committee has done a really great job. They've left our top rivals (Danger, Storm, & Wild) and also added new teams, such as Green Bay and Cedar Rapids. That should make it exciting for our fans and we look to bring a championship to Omaha."

The League has also diminished divisions this year, and separated the now 16 IFL teams into 2 very competitive conferences. The two conferences are the United Conference and the Intense Conference. The United Conference is: Sioux Falls Storm, Omaha Beef, Cedar Rapids Titans, Bloomington Xtreme, Chicago Slaughter, Green Bay Blizzard, Lehigh Valley Steelhawks, and Reading Express. The Intense Conference is: Wichita Wild, Nebraska Danger, Allen Wranglers, Colorado Ice, Wyoming Cavalary, New Mexico Stars, Everett Raptors, and Tri-Cities Fever.
