About the Guide

The 2012 North Rangers football media guide is intended to be a comprehensive navigational tool for all those who follow the program or cover it for a local media outlet. The information obtained should provide a glimpse back into the history of the North football program, a detailed account of last year's 7-3 season, a preview of this year's schedule and a look at all the players and coaches who will make up the orange and black this fall.

This media guide would not be possible without the time and assistance of many, starting with Rangers head coach George Burich. Access to statistics, school records, team information and availability for interviews with assistant coaches and players was paramount in the completion of the media guide.

In addition, thanks to all who provided information on administrators, past teams and players, etc. There are too many to name individually. A huge debt of gratitude goes out to the "architect" of the media guide, Ed Daugherty. Without Daugherty's hard work, passion, professionalism, talent and creativity, this would be nothing more than a concept instead of a tangible document. Good luck to Coach Burich and North as the season kicks off August 24 at Brush. Go Rangers.

Steve Thompson

SUPERINTENDENT

Before coming to the Willoughby-Eastlake School District in the summer of 2011, Steve Thompson served as the superintendent at Chagrin Falls Exempted Village Schools for four years and as the superintendent at West Liberty-Salem Local Schools for six years prior to that.

Thompson - who was given a five-year contract, replaced Keith Miller - who retired after 26 years as superintendent at Willoughby-Eastlake. Thompson is a 1989 graduate of Heidelberg College, where he earned a Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education and Teaching.

Thompson is on record as saying a major accomplishment at Chagrin Falls he was proud of was the creation and implementation of the Bridges to the World project, with student exchanges in China and another in South Africa.

Thompson is now in charge of a district that has 8,500 students and 14 schools. There are eight elementary schools, three middle schools and three high schools (Eastlake North, Willoughby South and the Technical Center) in the district.

The Willoughby-Eastlake School District also has set a goal to end fiscal year 2013 with a positive cash balance of at least $8.5 million.

Dennis Reilly

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Dennis Reilly is starting his fourth year as the Athletic Director at North High School. Reilly is a graduate of near-by Mentor High (1992) and earned his degree in special education / elementary education from Bowling Green State University in 1997.

In the same year he graduated from BGSU, Reilly joined the Willoughby-Eastlake School District, taking a job as a teacher and coach at Willowick Middle School in 1998.

Reilly coached basketball and tennis from 1998-2001 at Willowick Middle School before moving to North High School to take a job as a special education teacher, a position he still holds today.

Reilly was the head coach of the varsity boys' basketball team from 2004-2007. He was the assistant athletic director from 2007-2009. In 2009, he succeeded Jim Miller as North's AD when Miller stepped down prior to the start of the school year.

Reilly is married and has three children. His father, Jim, is the scorekeeper for the Rangers basketball team and his brother, Jimmy, is a well-respected OHSAA basketball referee in the area.

Jennifer Chauby

PRINCIPAL

When Jennifer Chauby was hired by Willoughby-Eastlake in 1998, she taught 9th grade science, chemistry and physics.

During her tenure as a teacher in the district, she also coached tennis and volleyball as well as serving as class advisor, rocket club advisor and robotics team coach. In 2004-2005, Chauby was named Lubrizol Lake County Science Teacher of the Year.

In 2006 she was promoted to assistant principal at South High School, and in 2008 she was named the principal at North.

Chauby grew up in Willoughby, where she attended Edison Elementary, Willoughby Middle School and graduated from South High School. She went on to Lakeland Community College where she played fastpitch softball and earned her Associates Degree.

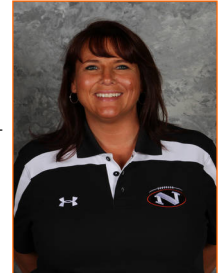

Chauby then transferred to Cleveland State University where she earned her Bachelor's Degree, Teacher Certification, Master's Degree and Superintendent's License. She is currently working on her PhD at Kent State University

Chauby has been married to her husband Mike for twenty years. They live in Chardon with their three sons - Matthew age 17, Michael age 16 and Marcus age 11.

Chauby believes that all students should be involved in some type of extracurricular activity, and supports sports, academic extracurriculars, community involvement and other student clubs.

That is why North offers over 45 extracurricular opportunities for students ranging from Academic Decathlon to Volunteers Club.

She instills in her students, teachers and staff that, "Getting involved and staying involved is the key to an enjoyable and successful high school career."

Ranger Honors

Three awards are given out by the North coaching staff at the end of every season that have much more meaning than the usual MVP award might represent.

That's because of the three former Rangers football players for whom these honors are named for.

The Jeffrey Neumann Award has been established to honor Neumann and the award is given to the team's top offensive or defensive back of the year.

Neumann, a starting cornerback for the Rangers in 2006, drowned at Mentor Headlands Beach on July 11, 2007 - just weeks before two-a-day practices for his senior season were set to begin. Neumann was a talented defensive back and a popular player at North. His tragic and unexpected death rocked the program. This is the fifth year anniversary of Neumann's passing.

The award for the player who best embodies what it means to be a North Ranger and put all individual recognition aside is the Brian Weitzman Award.

On September 11, 1978, Brian Weitzman died in an airplane crash along with his father, his brother, Mitchell, and three others. Weitzman was a senior at the time and was co-captain and starting center for the football team.

He served as officer for the junior class council. He was described as an excellent athlete, true sportsman and a friend

Bruce Yee played defensive middle guard as a sophomore at North and then played tackle on the varsity. At the beginning of summer practice prior to the start of his senior season with the Rangers, Yee succumbed to leukemia.

Yee was highly respected among teammates and coaches. The Booster Club established the Bruce Yee Memorial Plaque for the lineman of the year. The criteria for being selected goes beyond the football field. The winner is to be chosen based on leadership, friendliness, sportsmanship, desire, team spirit, cleanliness, loyalty, honesty and trustworthiness.

A popular park and softball field also bear Bruce Yee's name in Eastlake.

Honoring the Past

The North Rangers are honoring the 40th anniversary of the 1972 Greater Cleveland Conference championship team; a team that set a school record with a 9-1 season. This fall, the Rangers will wear the same style "N" on their helmets as the 1972 team wore in their record-setting season.

The 1972 Rangers, led by legendary coach Vic McIntire, won the outright GCC crown for the first time since 1962. The Rangers were finally able to hang the championship banner in 1972, after finishing second in both 1970 and 1971.

The Rangers were led by a dominating defense - dubbed by one local sportswriter as "The Big Orange Crush".

North allowed a mere 47 points in 10 games, posted three shutouts and didn't give up more than eight points to any team during the season.

The Rangers only loss came to Midpark, a 7-0 defeat in Week 6. North responded by winning four straight to close the year.

A 29-0 blasting of Berea in the final week of the season clinched the outright GCC championship for North, but unfortunately and surprisingly it was not enough to get the Rangers into the Ohio High School Athletic Association postseason tournament.

1972 marked the first time the OHSAA had sanctioned a post-season tournament for football, and the governing body used a mathematical calculation developed by a local man.

Only the top team in each of the four regions of a given division (in 1972 only 3 divisions were recognized by the OHSAA) were given a berth in the state semi-final game.

The Rangers finished points behind eventual state champion, Warren Western Reserve High School

BSTW - More Than Letters

BSTW more than just an acronym for the Rangers

If you've ever seen a North player wearing an orange and black shirt with the four letters "BSTW" on it and wondered what it stood for, it's probably not what you think. If you've never seen the letters on any Rangers apparel, all you have to do is get stuck behind Coach George Burich in traffic and there it is - on his vanity license plate.

Believe in Self, Believe in Teammates, Believe in a Win.

BSTW.

It goes back to when I was in 9th grade and Coach (Dan) Kukura would always break the huddle and say, 'Repeat after me - Believe in myself, believe in my teammates, believe in a win.'

That really stuck with me, especially because my father was my coach in youth football and those words really spoke to me and pushed me and I tried to do things that way.

When I got here at North, it wasn't a philosophy that was used, but when I took over as head coach, I knew it was something I wanted to bring back and stress to our guys. I shortened it up to BSTW once in a practice plan and it took off from there.

Theories have ranged on the meaning of the four letters on the North gear for years. Many have guessed it had something to do with the rival school in Willoughby - Beat South This Week was popular guess. Be Strong To Win was another familiar guess at the meaning behind the letters.

But Burich said it's more of a philosophy and an approach than a phrase shortened to an acronym and it is one that he continues to bring up and pound into the psyche of every players in the orange and black.

First we tell them to believe in themselves, because if you don't have self-belief you can do something, you can't help your team. Next you have to believe in your teammates and have faith in them as much as you have faith in your individual abilities. If you do that, you have to believe wins will come. It's something that always rang very true with me and I wanted to make it a part of this program.

Rangers Embrace Wounded Warrior Project

North coach George Burich has a greater respect for the military than many high school football coaches in Northeast Ohio for the simple fact that he has family ties to armed forces.

Burich's brother, Mike, is currently serving in the military and his late father, George, was a Vietnam veteran.

So when the idea of supporting the Wounded Warrior Project was brought to Burich's attention three years ago, it didn't take long for the Rangers to get on board with their coach and get behind the worthy cause.

The North Rangers are one of about 100 high schools nationwide who have supported the Wounded Warrior Project the past few years in an effort to raise $100,000 to help injured veterans from the time they finish surgery all the way through to their daily life out of service.

North's team goal the first year in 2010 was to raise $2,500. The Rangers defeated Bishop Ryan in the first game dedicated to supporting military veterans two years ago and surpassed that goal by raising close to $3,000 for the project.

North raised $6,372.25 in donations leading up to its Military Appreciation Game to benefit the Wounded Warrior Project on September 9, 2011. In that game, the Rangers whipped visiting Midpark, 62-14, to improve to 2-0 when wearing camouflage jerseys in honor of the Wounded Warrior Project.

This marks the third year of wearing the camouflage jerseys and raising money and awareness for injured military veterans. Military appreciation night for North is September 21 vs. Riverside.

The first year we raised $3,000 and last year we raised more than $6,000 and we just hope that it gets better and better each year," Burich said.

We have had a guest speaker come in and talk about what soldiers go through in war. The kids really respond to it. It is a big community project as well and the commitment from everyone at North High School has been great.

For the players, I think it is a special thing for the kids, and it's not something other schools do. We don't necessarily get a lot of fanfare or attention from it, but we are hoping more awareness is spread and more schools get behind the project.

In the past, donations have been accepted and collected in the stands by freshman football players and cheerleaders. The proceeds from the 50-50 raffle will be donated to the project. Wounded Warrior Project T-shirts are sold.

For more information or to find out more about how you can support the Wounded Warrior Project, contact North coach George Burich at 440-975-3688 or e-mail george.burich@weschools.org.

NORTH RANGERS

2012 FOOTBALL MEDIA GUIDE

It's a new year, and almost a brand new look for the North Rangers.

North is coming off a 2011 campaign that ended with a 7-3 record and just short of the program's first-ever playoff berth. It was the most wins for the football team since 1994.

A lot of that success had to do with a strong senior class, including record-setting quarterback George Gresko. North coach George Burich recognizes it won't be easy to replace the 27 seniors who graduated from last year's successful team, and there are only four returning starters, and of the four, only one will play the same position he played in 2012.

But the optimism remains on Stevens Boulevard that some new faces in new places will step up this fall and keep the Rangers as a contender in the Premier Athletic Conference.

The offensive line is a complete new unit and will be tested because of a lack of experience.

However, Burich characterized this year's team as "tough kids, who aren't dirty, play the game the right way, but don't take anything from anybody." That attitude will benefit a young group during the competitive PAC schedule.

Defensively, Austin Gomez (6-2, 220 pounds) returns to anchor the defensive line. Strnad was steady at safety last year and will move to cornerback. The challenge will be to replace standouts such as linebacker Brennan Torok and cornerback Nick Vogel - both of whom were selected to play in the 2012 News-Herald Senior Bowl. Burich said overall the 2012 team is a mix of size and speed. Not huge, but not small. Not slow, but not blazing fast either.

The key to the 2012 season is young players and some unknown names stepping up and making an impact.

Jospovic will be counted on heavily in whatever role he is in on offense, but the spread attack is not a one-man show. Gresko wouldn't have finished his career with the eye-popping numbers he had if not for the offensive line doing its job, the running game providing balance, and being fortunate to play with talented receivers on the outside.

The 2012 Rangers will need a collective team effort to reach their goals and follow up the success of 2011. It was a productive and promising summer, and the chemistry and attitude seem good.

But as Burich said, it's time to see it all be put together on the varsity field on Friday nights. The test starts August 24th at Brush.

Which unknown Rangers are ready to step up and make a name for themselves? Find out over the next 10 weeks.

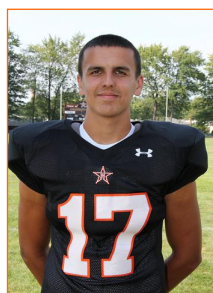

Ben Jospovic was Gresko's main target in the spread attack last year and he returns for his senior season as one of the most talented athletes on the roster. Jospovic earned numerous postseason honors by catching 69 passes for 1,020 yards in 2011.

However, with the graduation of a four-year starter like Gresko, Burich will change things up on offense and try Jospovic at quarterback.

Junior running back Mike Ranallo is 5-foot-9, 180 pounds, and should be the team's featured back this season after an impressive junior varsity campaign.

A.J. Strnad is a senior that will play slot receiver on offense.

At 6-foot-5, junior Anton Vrabec should become a favorite target in the Rangers' passing attack. And Vrabec has emerged as a solid backup QB option.

PREMIER ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

15 Years of the P - A - C

The Premier Athletic Conference was formed in 1998 with five original members - Chardon, Madison, North, Riverside and South. The Rangers, along with long-time rival the Rebels, arrived in the new league from the Greater Cleveland Conference.

The football schedule for the newly formed conference was unique and posed some scheduling difficulties early on because each school had just four conference games and had to find six non-conference opponents, including one in the second half of the year when most teams are in the midst of their own conference schedule.

In 2007, Ashtabula Lakeside was added to the Premier Athletic Conference to give the teams an even number with six schools.

In 2011, the PAC again expanded, adding Geneva and University, and all eight schools now play a more traditional seven-conference game schedule in weeks 4 through 10. Riverside athletic director George Bellios has commendably served as Premier Athletic Conference commissioner since 1998.

South has dominated the conference in football with seven championships in the first 14 seasons, and the Rebels have won the last four titles in a row. Geneva, Lakeside, North and University will head into the 2012 season in search of their first PAC crown in football.

The Classic at Classic Park

The Lake County Captains, the class A affiliate of the Cleveland Indians, will host the first ever high school football game at Classic Park on Friday, October 26 at 7 p.m. as the North Rangers and South Rebels will meet in "The Border Battle at Classic Park."

The baseball field at Classic Park will be transformed into a football field with one end zone in front of the first base dugout and the other end zone in front of the left field bleachers. This is a similar configuration to the game that was played at Wrigley Field in 2011 between Northwestern and Illinois. Due to limited space behind the left field end zone, the game will be played in a similar fashion as the contest that was played at Wrigley Field, in that the offensive team will switch directions on the field once they reach the 30 yard line while heading toward the bleachers.

"We have been looking into playing a football game at Classic Park for several years and after reviewing several field configurations, it was determined that the proposed layout will maximize the fan experience for this historic rivalry," Captains general manager Brad Seymour said.

Tickets go on sale August 24 at the Classic Park box office, online at CaptainsBaseball.com and by phone at 440-954-WINS (9467). Reserved seats are $8 in advance and $10 on the day of the game.

"We are excited for the opportunity to christen Classic Park to football with one of the best rivalry games in Northeast Ohio," North coach George Burich said.

Both schools will be offering VIP party packages that include preferred seating and a pre-game buffet for only $40. A limited number of party suites are also available for $560, which includes 16 game tickets and seating in the climate controlled Party Suite level of Classic Park.

NICK CARTER STADIUM

Nick Carter Stadium

34041 Stevens Boulevard
Eastlake, Ohio
Built: 1959
Playing Surface: Grass
Seating Capacity: 5,500

Nick Carter Stadium, located on the Northeast part of the Eastlake North High School campus, was built in 1959. Originally, the stadium was home to both North and the other member of the Willoughby-Eastlake School District - the South Rebels - until 1963 when South built its own facility. The Rebels play their home games at Harry E. Winters Stadium in Willoughby.

Nick Carter Stadium is home to the North Rangers football team, the North boys and girls soccer squads and boys and girls track teams at the school. The stadium seats 5,500 and the surface is natural grass.

The annual Ranger Relays are run at Nick Carter Stadium each spring, one of the marquee track and field events in Northeast Ohio.

The stadium is named after Nick Carter, who was a head football coach and served as North's athletic director from 1959-1977 and it was formally dedicated to Carter prior to the start of the 1978 season.

Carter was one of the original North High Athletic Hall of Fame inductees in 2007.

Others in the HOF Class of 2007 include Rangers icons like John Matteucci, Vic McIntyre, Spark Sankal, Tom Crowe and Russ Nightengale.

Carter is also in the Perry High School Athletic Hall of Fame. From 1930 to 1932, Carter earned nine varsity letters in football, basketball and track at Perry for the Pirates. During the 1932 football season, he carried the ball 32 times in a row against Mentor.

While attending Kent State University, he lettered in wrestling, football and track. Carter reached the final trials for the U.S. Olympic Wrestling Team, narrowly missing the squad. His opponent went on to take a silver medal in Berlin in 1936.

Nick coached high school football, basketball, baseball and track in Painesville from 1952 to 1957.

Renovations are planned for Nick Carter Stadium, including an upgrade of the restrooms and bleachers, and the addition of on-site locker rooms. The current locker rooms are located inside the high school, not in the stadium.

2012 FOOTBALL MEDIA GUIDE

Harbin Rating System

A former newspaper staffer and cash register repair man from Willowick, Jack Harbin, is essentially responsible for the playoff format used by the OHSAA to decide its football championships for the previous 40 years.

Harbin developed a mathematical formula in the 1960's that is quite simple - a high school football team earns points for every victory (or tie); then also receives secondary points for every game a defeated opponent wins (or ties). No points are awarded for a loss on either level.

The OHSAA used the Harbin Rating System on a trial basis in 1971 and in 1972 with the approval of the Ohio High School Football Coach Association and the OHSAA, the Board at the OHSAA officially implemented Jack Harbin's Rating System as the official determination of playoff-bound teams. No longer would sports writers or polls determine the state football champion.

Over the years, only a few changes have been made to the original system. The OHSAA originally began the playoffs in 1972 with just 3 divisions and only 1 qualifying team from each of the four regions within a division. A total of 12 teams made the post-season in 1972.

Now, the field has been expanded to it's current standard of 6 divisions with 8 teams qualifying from each of the four regions in the division. A Total of 192 school participate in the OHSAA football post-season.

Also, the third-level points, awarded the first two years the Rating System was in place, was eliminated prior to the 1974 season.

NORTH RANGERS

2012 FOOTBALL MEDIA GUIDE

There are plenty of new faces on both sides of the ball at North this fall, but a quartet of returning starters will be key to the success of the Rangers.

Seniors Ron Bolden, Austin Gomez, Ben Josipovic and A.J. Strnad are the only holdovers in the starting lineup from last year's team that went 7-3. With the graduation of 27 seniors off the 2011 squad, Coach George Burich and his staff will look to Bolden, Gomez, Josipovic and Strnad not only for production on the field, but for leadership as well.

"I think the fact that they have some experience on the varsity level is going to help them motivate their teammates," Burich said. "Whether it as an extension of us as coaches or getting the team to do things the right way, it is nice to have four guys like that who care about the team and care about winning so much."

Burich said the four returning starters have the attitude and mindset to not take any nonsense from anyone and to play with a chip on their shoulders. That personality has been taken on by the entire Rangers team, which led Burich to call the 2012 team "the toughest team I have coached". The toughness starts with Bolden, Gomez, Josipovic and Strnad.

"It's how they are, it's how their friends are and the team has adopted a little of that toughness and will never back down from anyone or any challenge," Burich said.

Ron Bolden, DB

Burich comments on Bolden: "Ron isn't the biggest kid, but he is a wrestler, he is a kid who gives 100 percent on every play and really gets after the ball. He is a good kid to have around the team, too. He is kind of our team chaplain. He does a lot with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. At the same time, he is the guy who will get after his opponent and his teammates when necessary."

Bolden says: "As returning starters, we need to set the mentality for the rest of the team. We have a lot of new names and unproven players and it is our responsibility to help them develop and believe in their talent. I feel the four returning starters grew a lot together, and even some of the other players on the team just gained so much from the experience of last year. Now we have to go out this season and get it done on the field."

Austin Gomez, OL/LB

Burich comments on Gomez: "Austin is quiet around other people, but on the team he is the guy who gets things going. He is an extremely physical football player. He played defensive end mostly last year, but this year we moved him to outside linebacker to get some drops and make people worry about coming anywhere near his area on the field."

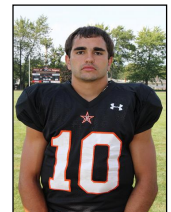

Gomez says: "I think we all need to step up because we want to win and we feel like we can win even if people are overlooking us. As the four returning starters, we feel like leaders, but we also feel like we mesh well together with the underclassmen. We are all going to need to contribute this year."

Ben Josipovic, QB/DB

Burich comments on Josipovic: "Ben has been a tremendous football player for us for three years. He has proven to be a fantastic offensive player and now he is going to play defense for us as well. When a guy who has Division I talent is so unselfish that he is will to change positions and do what is best for the team, that is a special kid to have around."

Josipovic says: "We feel a certain responsibility because we started and we were out there last year under the lights on Friday nights, but this isn't just our team. We feel like it is the whole senior class' team. The important thing is to lead by example. Just yelling at someone doesn't mean that much. We feel like we have talent, and I know this team has a ton of heart."

A.J. Strnad, WR/DB

Burich comments on Strnad: "He is a starting wide receiver and starting cornerback for us. He is a guy who gets after the football and can be dangerous on both sides of the ball. He is scrappy and he is going to fight for the ball every play."

Strnad says: "I feel like if everybody puts in their 1/11th, we will all be fine. Everybody has to fight for a position, and that is a good thing for competition."

NORTH RANGERS

2012 FOOTBALL MEDIA GUIDE

George Burich has North Rangers blood running through his veins, and being head coach at his alma mater is a perfect scenario for the Willowick native. George's father and mother both graduated from North. His wife, Gina, was two years behind him in high school. His grandfather was a janitor at North High School.

The love for the orange and black was planted at a young age, which makes the opportunity to take over the program and try to turn it in the right direction even that much more special.

Burich has always loved football. While he thought about teaching and coaching, Burich started off at Mercyhurst studying sports medicine, but quickly realized that path wasn't for him. He became involved with special education students and eventually earned a degree in the field and has gone on to be a special education teacher at the high school.

Burich spent one year at Maple Heights before coming back home to Stevens Boulevard and joining North's staff in 1999. Using his defensive expertise, he quickly worked his way up from defensive line coach to defensive coordinator, and now - ironically - Burich is at the helm of his team's wide-open spread offense. Burich took over as the offensive architect of the spread after former offensive coordinator Kahari Hicks left before the 2011 season.

In 2011, Burich helped North jump out to a 5-0 start to the season, threatening to make the Division I playoffs for the first time in program history. The Rangers finished 7-3 and missed the D-I, Region 1 field by a few spots, but it was the most wins by a North football team since the early 1990s. Burich coaches in the same manner he played - with a lot of focus and passion. And being at the helm of his alma mater's football team is a responsibility he doesn't take lightly.

"The chance to coach at your alma mater is a dream come true for me. It's where I've always wanted to be. It's not exactly how I envisioned it happening, but I feel like this is the right job for me.

I am where I belong. Life is strange sometimes and how I got the job was a little weird, but it has been an enjoyable ride the last five years. Coaching at your alma mater is just extra motivation to make sure everything is done right."

Burich - whose father, George, served in Vietnam and whose brother Mike currently serves in the military - has been a proponent of the Wounded Warrior project, which the Rangers will participate in for the third year this fall. Burich has spearheaded several fundraising initiatives for the program, including Night at the Races, which has been a major success.

Burich's father passed away from a sudden heart attack on April 13, 2002. George Burich Jr was a marine and a Vietnam veteran and someone who Burich had the utmost respect for as a father and as a coach when he played in the youth leagues.

"My dad was really strict and he was hard on me, but he raised me right and pushed me for the right reasons. He was very influential to me in my personal and professional life and I think about him all the time."

The goals on the field for Burich and the Rangers continue to be to strive for the team's first PAC championship and to try to qualify for a postseason berth in the brutal Division I, Region 1 field that includes defending state champion St Ignatius, St Edward, Solon, Mentor, Glenville and rival South among annual contenders.

2011 Season In Review

2011 SEASON WAS MEMORABLE ON STEVENS BOULEVARD

It could also be described as an incredibly frustrating one considering how close Coach George Burich's talented North squad was to qualifying for the Ohio High School Athletic Association postseason for the first time in the program's history.

The campaign for the 2011 North Rangers started off with a record-breaking night on the ground in the August heat and ended with a record-breaking night on the ground in the mud in late October. The opening-night rushing theatrics - provided by Rangers senior running back Jordan Morris' 304 yards and 3 TDs - got the season off to rousing start with a win over highly touted Brush and sparked North to a 5-0 beginning for the fifth time in school history and the third time in the last 38 years.

However, the Rangers hit a few bumps on the Premier Athletic Conference road during the second half of the season, and the run into the record books in the final game of the year was not accomplished by Morris, but rather by All-Ohioan Kareem Hunt of rival South. Hunt's 485-yard, 6-touchdown game lifter the Rebels to a 45-26 victory and dropped the Rangers to 7-3 on the season. The win locked South in to the playoffs as the

The loss ended North's bid for a first-ever spot in Week 11, and closed the career of record-setting quarterback George Gresko, Morris and a strong senior class. The Rangers finished 12th in Division I, Region 1 - four places behind the eighth and final seed Cleveland JFK for a spot in the playoffs.

The 2011 Rangers will forever be remembered as an exciting team to watch, both offensively and defensively. With good athletes and high-energy playmakers on both sides of the ball, North won 7 games in a season for the first time since the early 1990s. The Rangers raced to a 5-0 start, scoring 193 points in those opening five victories - including PAC wins over Chardon and Riverside.

A tough 27-20 loss on the road at Madison in Week 6 stopped the winning streak. Gresko played through a shoulder injury that would require off-season surgery and padded the passing records he had already owned at the school due in large part to an eye-popping junior season. The hurry-up, wide-open passing attack North utilizes not only allowed Gresko to pile up big numbers and Morris - when healthy - to keep defenses off balance, but it provided the ideal situation for a breakout year for an underclassmen Burich and company will count heavily in 2012.

Wide receiver Ben Josipovic earned numerous postseason honors by catching 69 passes for 1,020 yards. Josipovic is expected to move to quarterback and take over the high-octane attack this fall.

Defensively, North posted shutouts over Lakeside in Week 7 and against Geneva in Week 9. Seniors Brennan Torok, Jeremy Lemieux and Mike Frank and Kyle Holzheimer were among the standouts on the defensive side of the ball for the Rangers. The Class of 2012 set the bar high for future players at North on offense and defense, but Burich is confident in the youth system and in the student-athletes currently in the program. While there will be a lot of new faces this year after being hit hard by graduation, the goals on Stevens Boulevard do not change. Challenging for the PAC championship and that elusive Division I playoff berth is what all players and coaches wearing orange and black this season will be striving for.
