Oneonta Outlaws Team History

The Oneonta Outlaws arrived in The City of the Hills in 2010, after spending the previous six seasons in Saratoga Springs, New York as the Saratoga Phillies of the New York Collegiate Baseball League. Originally owned by Keith Rogers and Dan Scaring, the organization was acquired by local businessman Gary Laing before the 2013 season.

Gary was raised in Oneonta, is a great baseball fan, and enjoys being part of the wood bat development league. He is dedicated to providing a positive baseball experience to both the Oneonta fans and the young men from colleges across the nation who commit to playing for the Outlaws. Gary, along with his wife Karen, can be seen at every game at historic Damaschke Field.

During the team's tenure in Oneonta they have won two NYCBL championships (2011 and 2013). The Outlaws transferred to the Perfect Game Collegiate Baseball League for the 2016 season.

Historic Damaschke Field at Neahwa Park

Home of the Oneonta Outlaws

Citizens of Oneonta have played baseball in Neahwa Park since the late-1800s. One of the few level parcels in The City of the Hills, the land along the shores of the Susquehanna River offered scenic vistas and easy access to city residents. A dedicated baseball field was opened on Memorial Day in 1905, originally known as Elm Park. The grandstand was improved and expanded in 1938 as a Works Progress Administration project, and in 1968 the ballpark was renamed in honor of Ernest C. "Dutch" Damaschke, a local sports figure. During its years of service, notable figures like Babe Ruth, Rogers Hornsby, John Elway and Curtis Granderson have all graced the field. Damaschke Field has also served as the home park for multiple professional, semi-professional and amateur teams. The list includes:

Year(s)	Team	League
