There is no “I” in “team”

The team is key for Ponderosa. The Mustangs made it clear their success is built around the structure and strengths of their team.

Ponderosa’s Carolyn Ho (22, red) splits the defense for an open lane

When the loss is taken out of context from Tuesday night’s game the Mustangs are a solid group. Seniors Carolyn Ho and Katherine Higgins are the backbones of this young team. Higgins led the team with ten gritty points in the paint. Ho and sophomore Madison Miyasato run a tight offense knowing exactly where their teammates need to be.

Defensively, head coach Cory White schemed well against Highlands Ranch. His girls ran a 3-2 zone most of the night but the speed and opportunistic nature of the Falcons overcame this. Zone defense can be hard to beat, Tuesday night wasn’t their night, but looking to the playoffs could provide a nightmare matchup.
