

October 2019 Newsletter

October 19-20, 2019
9:30 AM - 4:30 PM
2 FULL Days for ONLY $200

PGC
BASKETBALL

PGC is one of THE BEST camps in the nation and we have arranged for them to come to our facility for 2 full days of amazing instruction. The cost of a typical PGC camp is $600-900, and requires traveling hundreds of miles to one of their locations. They are so good that they offer a full money back guarantee at their normal camps. Right now we need at least 15 more athletes to register this week to break even, or else we will need to cancel the camp and pass on this amazing opportunity. So please share this with everyone you know who is serious about getting better at basketball. If you emailed me in August indicating your interest, but have not registered yet online, you need to do so. Register online on our website, under "Sign Me up for Lessons & Classes" then select the "Special Events" tab.

High School Scrimmages at the Factory this Sunday. You DO NOT want to miss it.

As I previously shared at the tryouts and in the parent information packet/email, the high schoolers will be playing in pick-up/scrimmage games here at the factory on select weekends that are listed on the Fall Schedule. Almost 2 dozen college coaches have expressed interest in attending these sessions to watch our high school athletes play. I can not over emphasize how big of an opportunity this is for our players. Therefore, we ask that every high school athlete make every effort to attend so that we can put our best foot forward for these coaches. If coaches show up to watch players, and they are not here, the coaches won't come back. If you are not able to attend, please let me know ASAP, so I can plan accordingly. I will be photographing the HS players this week for promo sheets for the coaches.

Balances are due for the Fall Season:

I still have $9000 outstanding between player fees and uniforms, so I need to collect everyone's balances this week. I will have these balances available beginning at practice tonight.

Kyle Gupton is now Available for a limited time for training.

European Professional Basketball Player Kyle Gupton is now available to do private and small group training with our athletes at The Factory until he returns to the league.

Right now you can book your time slots personally. We will have his full schedule of availability on our website for online registration this week.

60 min Small Group Training: $25 / Athlete

30 Min Individual Session: $45

60 min Individual: $80

Winter Middle School Season will begin in Mid December

The winter season for our Middle School players will begin in mid December (practices) and will run thru mid March, with events in January, February and March. The winter season is when Coaches and Evaluators take notice of the next group of ballers (Middle Schoolers), and start creating their scouting lists. In these events, the middle schoolers, not the high schoolers, get all the attention. We are building some talented teams in these age groups, and have a great season planned. We will be scheduling our winter Parent meetings this month, and will need to begin collecting player fees Nov 1st.

Spring/Summer Team Parent Meetings in early November

We will be conducting our Parent meetings for the Spring/Summer teams in early November. Dates and times will be posted and sent out next week. Parents will learn about the planned schedule, the budget, and will get to vote on some schedule items, as well as roster size. We will establish the team parent and collect initial payments. This year we will be collecting player fees according to a payment schedule throughout the winter so that all confirmed players' fees are paid before the season begins in March.