New Business:

Len Stachitas from the Ponte Vedra YMCA discussed how the YMCA will offer any new Booster member a one week free trial at the facility. If you are already a member of the Y, your name will go into a raffle to win time with a personal trainer. This offer will be retroactive for all who have already joined.

There was also the introduction of a new fundraiser director, Kevin Hanney. He had discussed ideas about using the Ponte Vedra Concert Hall as the venue for Sharkfest and ideas about selling tables instead of individual tickets. He also asked all to start looking around for some high end high quality items for the silent auction.

It was also agreed that when boosters names are listed, they should not be classified in any order.
